

Travelling Star

Mavis Wallaby

Margaret Fitzgerald

Travelling Star

Copyright © 2004 Early Years Strategy, Halls Creek
Mavis Nampin Wallaby (dec'd), Story

Illustrations: Unfortunately Mavis passed away before she was able to complete the illustrations for this book. The illustrations have been completed by Margaret Fitzgerald who worked with Mavis and are based on her original sketches.

This book was produced from a workshop held in Halls Creek, WA.
This workshop was designed to provide an opportunity for community members to write and illustrate culturally appropriate stories for pre-school aged children.

Project Managers - Margaret Fitzgerald and Siobhan Casson
Workshop presenter - Jacqueline Wright

Thanks to the Kimberley Language Resource Centre for hosting the workshop, Ngaringga Ngurra and Kimberley College of TAFE, Halls Creek Campus.

This project and subsequent publication was funded by the Department for Community Development: Early Years Strategy.

In memory of Mavis Nampin Wallaby.

This is a story that Mavis Wallaby remembers from her childhood growing up on a Moola Bulla Station.

She said that it always frightened the children and made them stay at their camp at night.

Look at the moon.

Look at the stars.

What do you see?

That star was a travelling star, going to other places...

and disappearing.

That star is a travelling star. If you are wandering around in the night, that star will follow you and then disappear.

